NEW YORK. Sept. 21.—Bob Fitzsimmons was arrested at Earthold Hotel by Detective Sergeaut MeNaught, who brought him to police headquarters shortly before 1:30 o'clock to-day. The arrest was made on a warrant charging Fitzsimmons with a mistemator in arranging a prime-fight in the city. An indictment was recently returned against him by the grand jury. Detective MeNaught left head quarters immediately to arraign Fitzsimmons at Sie district-attorney's effice.

So far as known, Corbett, for whom the detectives have a warrant, hus not yet been arrested.

Fitzsimmons was arraigned in General Seasion's Court this afternoon before Judge Fitzgernid. The court-room was crowded. Fitzsimmons beared on the railing in front of the Judge's desk and looked straight at the Judge. He cartled a silk out in his hand, and wore a prince albert coat. His manager, Martin Julian, stood beside him, but he had no counset. The indictment was read and Fitzsimmons was acked if he wished to plend. After a whindpered conversation wite Julian, he pleaded "not guilty." The Judge then hold acked if he wished to plead. After a whispered conversation wich Julian, he pleaded 'not guilty.' The Judge then held him in $1.00 hall, and as no bondamen was ready, the Judge added: "Committed until ball is furnished." Fitzsimmons turned pale as the idea of a prison cell struck him, but he was not taken to a cell. He was taken up to the detective's office in General Session's building, to await until some one could be found to go security for him. Fitzsimmons finally secured ball and was released. The district attorney said there were two courts to the indictment.

He further said the case of Fitzsimmons and Corbett, who have been jointly in-dicted, was the first arrest made since the law was amended.

The indictments against the two pugi-lists were found by the grand jury a week ago.

ROCKINGHAM, N. C., Sept. 21.—Special—The Superior Court of Richmond

cial—The Stperior Court of Richmond county begun a session here this meraling, Judge Starbuck presiding. Although we have court bi-monthly, ewing to the large number of oriminal cases, some of which were continued from former terms, the present term will last two weeks, and will be devoted cultrely to the criminal docket. There have already been found seventy-nine true falls, and it is probable that thirty more will be brought in by the grand jury.

Most of the Democrats here are wild for free silver, but the golf-standard Democrats are more numerous than was supposed when the Indianapolis ticket was nominated.

Most of them will vete for Palmer, some will refrain from voting, and some speak of voting with the Prohibitomists.

The Republicans here will almost to a man vote for the nominees of their party, and from the present outlook it is by no means estiain that they will fall to carry their State and electoral tickets.

BONGOLA IS CAPTURED.

After a Hot Regagement at El Hafir the Nile Expedition Takes the Place.

CAIRO, Sept. 21.—A dispatch from the Anglo-Egyptian proedition states that Dongola, the objective point of the expedition, has been taken, without meeting with any resistance from the Detvision, the place being unoccupied.

The dispatch adds that the town of El Hafir, north of Dongola, to which place the Dervishes retreated Saturday, was captured, after a hot engagement.

After their defeat, the entire Dervish force retreated southward upon Dongola.

All Linen Hemmed Huck Towels, $2.00. $3.00. $ CAIRO, Sept. 21.—A dispatch from the Anglo-Egyptian repedition states that Dongola, the objective point of the expedition, has been taken, without meeting with any resistance from the Derivision. The cliepach adds that the town of El Hafir, north of Dongola, to which place the Dervishes retreated Saturday, was captured, after a hot engagement.

After their defeat, the entire Dervish force retreated southward upon Dongola. At the same time the expeditions steamers started for the same place, and being the quicker, reached there before the Dervishes. The city was found to be deserted by warriors, and the steamers at once landed a force of infantry to hold to until the arrival of the main body of the expedition.

At the same time the expedition's steamers at the quicker, reached there before the Derrishes. The city was found to be descreted by warriors, and the steamers at once landed a force of infantry to hold to until the arrival of the main body of the expedition.

El Hafir was not taken by the troops until after a most stubborn resistance on the part of the Derrishes had been overcome. The riffemen of the latter fought behind well made mud forts and in trenches that were strewn with mats. These defences, however, were soon wrecked by the heavy fire of the Esyptian artillery and the Maxim battery that was manned by the Connaught Rangers.

The Dervishes stood the fire bravely, but were finally compelled to withdraw from the place. Their cavalry took no part in the engagement, remaining some distance off in the desert, watching the result of the battle. When the British and Egyptians landed, the entire force retreated southward.

The capture of the place was halled with delight by the natives, who have long been harried by the Dervishes. They snouted, danced, and sang in a frenzied

The country around El Hair is fertile and there is plenty of green fedder for the camela and other animals of the ex-pedition.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The correspondent of the Daily News, who is with the Soudan expedition, telegraphs that in the attack on El Hafir the Derylshes were outwirted; they all advanced on land to meet the troops, thus permitting the sumboats to slip past the town, sink one of their scamers, and hurry on to Dongola. When the Derylshes saw the move, they turned and tried to overtake the gunboats and save Dongola, but the land forces of the expedition headed them off.

The Staffordshire Regiment will follow the gunboats to Dongola, and thus the Derviahes will be placed between two fires. LONDON Sept. 21.-The correspondent of
